Cambridge Architectural Introduces New Landscape Interior
Website and Brochure

CAMBRIDGE, MD... Cambridge Architectural, the world's most experienced – and only full-service – provider of metal fabric solutions, announces the release of its new Landscape Interior website and accompanying brochure.

The unique new site, www.CambridgeInterior.com, offers users an in-depth look into the components of a Cambridge Architectural Landscape Interior woven metal fabric application. Users can learn more about the beauty, functionality, affordability and sustainable attributes of Landscape Interior woven metal mesh applications by browsing the easy-to-use site. The printed brochure complements the website by showcasing Cambridge's most popular metal fabric patterns and applications for Landscape Interiors.

“Landscape Interior applications are widely known for their ability to distinguish large interior open spaces with a graceful presence,” says Heather Collins, director of marketing for Cambridge Architectural. “Now site visitors and brochure readers can explore the variety of functional and additional aesthetic benefits associated with our interior metal fabric solutions.”

The site consists of a variety of images and content focused solely on interior woven metal fabric applications. Users are provided with easy-to-access lists detailing the many advantages of specifying a Landscape Interior solution. For example, Landscape Interior solutions can enhance lighting effects while improving heating, air conditioning and ventilation. Other site features include photos of completed installations along with in-depth case histories and additional photos and descriptions of Cambridge mesh patterns and corresponding attachment hardware systems. Users can log on and request a visit from a Cambridge sales representative, register for email updates or even request a quote for a specific project.

The new Landscape Interiors brochure combines beautiful images of Cambridge mesh with an overview of the benefits of metal fabric as an important and versatile element of interior design and function. The elegant brochure highlights the most stunning mesh patterns and textures available, and how they can be applied to a variety of interior projects.
